Chairperson's Report

"Together we have made a difference" - This theme continues to provide the common thread that ties together a number of perspectives that I would share with you as we look at the past year in the life of our Wesley ministry.

Mr. Bob Harwood

Multicultural Programs: Significant new work has been undertaken in our multicultural program area. Wesley was selected by Canada Employment and Immigration to provide, through 1992, the full range of Immigrant Settlement Services in the Hamilton area, while a new structure and process for providing these services on a continuing basis was developed. Under other, already established, Wesley community development initiatives, we provide advocacy services for individuals and facilitate the work of a substantial number of ethnic/linguistic organizations. In an increasingly pluralistic community, Wesley plays an evolving leadership role working with others to meet the often urgent needs of strangers in our midst.

Housing: In previous annual reports, reference has been made to Wesley's housing program with its focus on providing "affordable" housing for single men and women, many of whom otherwise would be homeless. A new, separate, corporation has been formed to assume responsibility for both the existing housing program and a new 72 unit development project now underway. The first annual report of the new corporation, "Wesley Community Homes Inc.", has been included as a free standing insert in this report.

Children's Programs: Children's programming, including our work with special needs children, in partnership with the United Way, has been another area of increased focus. It remains a top priority, a key strategy in our struggle to break the cycle of poverty. Program funding covers approximately half of our children's work. We are dependent on donations for the balance.

Emergency Services: In like manner, we depend primarily on donations to carry our broad range of Emergency Services - hot meals, food and clothing "stores", extended hours of sanctuary in the drop-in, and the Christmas Store. Each day at Wesley we see hundreds of men, women and children impacted by the continuing recession - or by euphemisms such as "the jobless recovery".

Further reference to the above areas, to Youth and Family Programs, The Transitional Youth Program, and The Seniors Program, will be found in the body of this report.

Social Justice: In all of this we struggle to achieve a series of balances - one being the balance between addressing urgent immediate needs and getting at underlying root causes. We are very intentionally devoting more time and energy to education to raise awareness of the underlying issues - to Networking with other agencies and organizations which share our concerns - and to Advocacy as we seek to work cooperatively with governments, where possible, and to challenge governments, where necessary, to advance the ultimate goal of a more just society.

Financial Pressures: Another of the balances we seek to achieve is the balance between being fiscally responsible, to ensure a continuing Wesley presence, and being agonizingly aware of unmet needs. In our 1992/93 fiscal year, after two years of significant recession induced operating losses, we succeeded in generating a modest operating surplus. However, this has been offset by prior year adjustments and the recognition of a more realistic current value for two of the properties in our housing program. The net effect is to leave the accumulated deficit little changed from a year ago. General donations support, after allowance for unusual, non repeating items, has been flat after years of strong growth. Significant need, particularly in our work with children, go unaddressed for lack of money.

Broader Support Base: We have broadened Wesley's financial support base. Almost half of total revenue now comes from other than government funding. Core support from the United Church is augmented by strong support from local congregations and their members and from growing ecumenical involvement on the part of Presbyterian congregations and others. Recognition of Wesley's contribution to the community is reflected in the increased financial support provided by the general public, foundations, service clubs, employee funds, and the business community. See details elsewhere in this report.

Appreciation and Thanks: The task, by its very nature, is never ending but much has been accomplished this past year - thanks to many, many people. My thanks to Wesley's staff for their skills and for their utter commitment to the task - to more than a thousand volunteers who serve on the Board, on committees, or in hands-on service to others throughout the year - and to the many thousands who provide the financial and other support, without which our Wesley ministries could not survive.

EDUCATION

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Significant social change requires the political will to reform power structures, enact legislation, and inform, more receptive organizations and individuals.

Making a Difference ...

Multicultural

Our advocacy work improves access and quality of community services for persons who, due to cultural, language and economic differences, would otherwise face barriers.

The Mutual Ethnic Seniors Club provides ethnic seniors, who would spend their days alone and isolated, with a place to belong. The easing of isolation and improved community access impacts on both their emotional and physical sense of well being, enabling them to be active citizens in our community.

Our advocacy workers help break down barriers for an average 25 people each day.

Cultural Interpreters

Non English speaking persons whose access to Community Social Services is limited by cultural and language barriers, gain equal access to those services which many of us have utilized or may require to assist us through difficult times.

Social service providers have the opportunity to provide better service to our ethnically diverse community.

Services are available in Arabic, Chinese (Cantonese, Mandarin), Croation, Farsi, Italian, Khmer (Cambodian), Loation, Polish, Portugese, Punjabi/Hindu/Urdu, Serbian, Somali, Spanish, and Vietnamese.

Transitional Youth

Our Transitional Youth program provides a safe environment and access to community services through counselling, education and guided referrals. It is for young people 16-21 years of age, 98% of whom have been physically, sexually and/or emotionally abused. The impact of this program is that young people have the opportunity to develop relationships that give them a chance to be safe and grow to become adults who can fully participate in the community.

This year over 300 different "street youth" have found safety, had a chance to tell their story this past year and been given a better chance at a future.

Youth and Family

Teen program - Young teens who may face barriers of language, culture and economics in accessing the sports teams, clubs, lessons etc., that are essential to fulfilling a child's development, participate in social recreation activities with positive role models of staff and volunteers. Time that may otherwise be spent in "negative" activity is spent positively; providing opportunities to learn skills and for the teen to succeed rather than fail.

Our summer program was the place to be for an average of 35-40 children every day of the summer. As well, the Social Skills Activity Program for children who are behaviourally challenging operated every day with an additional 10-12 children. Each night our teen program is accessed by an average 30-35 young teens.

Social Skills Activity Program

Young children 5-12 years of age who are behaviorally challenging receive the skills and confidence, through intentional one-on-one and small group activities, that will give them a better chance to succeed in school, other programs and family life.

Family Resource Centre

The ethnically diverse and economically depressed Victoria Park Community have a place to belong, providing access to educational toys, consumer driven education workshops, and a safe place to play, in our Family Resource Centre.

Housing

Low income single persons, many of whom have been previously institutionalized, receive a quality and affordable place to live. Through support, advocacy and sharing of resources, many gain the skills and confidence needed to live independantly.

Currently W.U.M. provides 34 housing units for persons who otherwise may be homeless. We have received a conditional allocation from the the Ministry of Housing for an additional 73 units.

Survivors of Torture

Persons who are survivors of torture in their country of origin have the vital opportunity to learn English in a safe non-threatening environment with understanding of how their experiences have impacted on their ability to function and learn. Through advocacy and a safe network of community services, an environment to help the healing begin is created.

"The first person killed by torture trigged a national scandal in Brazil in 1964. The tenth person to die of torture barely made the papers. Number 50 was accepted as normal."

Eduardo Galeano, Days and Nights of Love and War

Emergency Services

Our Emergency Services impacts on those accessing the service on the most basic levels. We ease hunger, in ways that protect each individuals dignity, offer sanctuary and refuge for persons who may be homeless or living in inadequate shelter and facilitate linkages to other community services, where there previously had been barriers. Without a place of safety the cost to the community, in both human and economic terms, would be significantly higher.

The night time drop-in program which operated from December until June provided safety for an average of 55 persons each night. The year before, that average was 25 persons.

In 1992/93 over 20,000 volunteer hours were critical to our needs as we help to make a difference

Once again W.U.M. was able to increase our fundraised dollars over our previous year. This was primarily due to two $50,000.00, one time donations, one coming in the first quarter and the other in the last quarter in the form of a bequest.

As you can see, when you discount those two amounts, over 50% of our fundraised support comes in the third quarter. In fact, the vast majority of that amount is in December.

To enable us to continue to meet the needs of people we see, it is essential that we be able to garner support for our Childrens' Campaign (1st quarter) to the same level as our Christmas Campaign.

We continue to have faith that in partnership, the work of Wesley will make our community better for all of us. Your support in all of its forms will help us make a difference ... together.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Wesley Urban Ministries Inc.

We have audited the consolidated balance sheet of Wesley Urban Ministries Inc. as at March 31, 1993 and the consolidated statements of revenues and expenses, deficit and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In common with many non-profit organizations, Wesley Urban Ministries Inc. derives revenues from church and community donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible of satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the organization and we were unable to determine whether any adjustments for unrecorded revenues might be necessary to donation revenues, excess of revenues over expenses for the year, assets and deficit.

In our opinion, except for the effects of adjustments, if any, which might have been required had we been able to satisfy ourselves with respect to the completeness of revenues as described in the preceding paragraph, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wesley Urban Ministries Inc. as at March 31, 1993 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

The comparative figures for the preceding years prior to the restatement for the change in accounting policy relating to capitalization of incidental operating costs of properties (note 2) and a prior period adjustment (note 8), were audited by other auditors.

Executive Directors' Report

are like most of us, you are so busy doing and being busy and coping with life, that you are not really using the many gifts you've been given and have probably not even taken time to search yourself to determine what you have been called to do. Or maybe, you feel that there are too many barriers in your way. Okay, go ahead and list all those barriers that are blocking your way. Then think about it. Helping to reduce barriers for people and increase their options for accessing opportunities in life is what I believe we are about at Wesley Urban Ministries. We do this with our donors, our supporters, our clients, our volunteers, and our staff,

Sit back and pause awhile, reflect about yourself and the inner strength you have and the many gifts that you have been given. I am sure that you will be amazed. Your gifts are of God, they are uniquely yours, and they make you the truly special child of God that you are. Now, please reflect a little more - how many of your gifts do you use? If you when we share the stories of the people who come to us in need, when we share stories of systemic injustice, and when we look for our collective opportunities to work towards social justice. We assist people in using their gifts, in taking advantage of opportunities to work together, and in reducing the barriers that enable us to work together. We do this with those that come to us in need - through our Emergency Night Program, Emergency Day Program, No-Charge Food and Clothing Stores, Youth and Family Programs, our Housing Program, our "Street Youth" Programs, our Multicultural Programs, our Administration and Leadership, and how our personnel, both paid and unpaid, interact with folks who come to us. We provide the programs, the services, be they the counselling or the food. But when we really look at it, its' not about the food or the counselling (although both are essential to getting to where we need to be). What we are about is human life, of assisting others to reach their potential. It is about working with and helping a person to find their own inner strength because their journey to fulfilling their human potential has to begin from their gifts, their inner strength. Along the way, we show our love by helping to reduce barriers and increase options for people to take advantage of opportunities, and at Wesley that's what we're about.

I ask that you think about your many gifts to work together with us for human life. Please search your inner strength, draw from it, and come forward.

WESLEY

Wesley Urban Ministries Inc.

We believe that all of us share a responsibility for Social Justice. We seek to learn from those who know poverty and alienation from personal experience and to respond with insight and sensitivity to give sanctuary - build trust - and offer hope for a new beginning. We seek to empower individuals to overcome barriers to full participation in the community. We seek to be a catalyst for social transformation by sharing our vision and commitment with others. And we seek to meet a need we all share, the need to make a personal contribution to easing the often desperate plight of our neighbour or the stranger in our midst - be it in time as volunteers or staff members, or as financial supporters - that, TOGETHER, WE MIGHT MAKE A DIFFERENCE,
